Interested in Playing Sports In College?

Athletic recruitment at the NCAA, NAIA, and Junior College levels is not passive. Waiting to be discovered often leads to missed opportunities. In this session, Chuck Liddiard, Founder & Executive Director of The Paratum Scholars, will teach students and parents how to:

- Take ownership of the recruiting process
- Communicate effectively with college coaches
- Understand key recruiting timelines
- Balance athletics with academics

Families will leave with a deeper understanding of the process and a clear strategy for the road ahead. This session is valuable for student-athletes in every grade, and it is never too early (or too late) to start planning.
